“ I am Kayla Santos, 19 years old goin on 20. Also a resident of Benicia and recently took a walk through marina village condos and saw this bench with Anthony Leone written under it. I thought I could spend some time reading about him and praying for him and his family. I did not know Anthony personally. But I am sure he is and will always be missed. God bless.

“ Anthony...you were such a lovable, happy go lucky little boy, who grew up to become a caring compassionate young man that I was so proud to know as my nephew. You were a good big brother and a best friend to your dad. I so appreciated how well you treated my brother- your dad. Kevin...you are the most wonderful father...I can't imagine anyone being better at it. Anthony is gone too soon, but I hope in time you will be able to smile again and cherish the time you did have with him here on earth. Suzi...I know that Anthony enjoyed the times you and he spent going to movies and A's games. He had your love of reading books as well. He spoke highly of you. For all of the family....may Anthony's curly red hair and big bright smile shine on in our hearts for ever and ever. I love you Anthony.

“ I was Anthony's resident advisor when he was a freshman in college. When I first met Anthony he was very sweet and shy, and I could tell he was a little nervous about college, like all of the freshman on the 5th floor. As the year went on, I watched Anthony transform into an outgoing, silly, and happy college freshman that had made so many friends. He, and all of the goofy boys at the end of the hall, loved playing pranks, staying up way too late, and playing soccer in the hallway. One thing that always remained the same about Anthony was his kindness towards others. He had a heart made of CAL colored gold that everyone loved. My thoughts and prayers go to Anthony's family. The 5th floor of Joe West loved him so much.
