“ I worked with Tony at Atlas Heating while we were building in Southampton. He was quite the talented man but never once did he like he was better than anyone else. He loved his work but loved his family the most. He was always there to back you up if you needed someone. You never had to ask.. he was there. Lots of great memories and I have thought of him often over the years. His sense of humor and laugh always made you smile. Rest in peace Tony. You have left quite an impression on the people around you.

“ I had the pleasure of meeting Tony in the early 80s. Pat Souza, Tony's brother, was a coworker and friend and made the introduction at the Fratlanza Club. I always looked forward to seeing Tony at the club's monthly dinners. He was a great conversationalist and we always found many things to talk about. Later he bought his son Mario and I could tell Tony was a good father as well. I'm happy to have so many good memories of talking and laughing with Tony. Great guy, gone, but never forgotten. Rest in eternal peace Tony.
