“ I still can't believe it. My heart broke when I heard Christy passed. We were so close in high school, my senior year at Liberty 2001. We hung out all the time during that year. We used to enjoy creating art together. We connected through paint. Dancing in the rain. Laughing at nothing. She was an amazing artist. A comedian. Her heart was so big, even on her worst day... If I was sad, she would make me smile. She was such a bright light and I will never forget her. I am honored to know her for the short time we hung out together. She now can fly with her mother in heaven who was just as beautiful as she was. I went to her funeral and I keep some rose petals that I was given off her bird fountain in a jar with a butterfly on it.

May she rest in paradise.
