

Gregory Steven Daniell

April 21, 1955 - October 23, 2024

Gregory Steven Daniell 4/21/1955 - 10/23/2024

Greg passed away quietly at his home. He was the most amazing man....kind, funny, artistic, strong, hardworking and truly the most honest and ethical person.

He was the best husband, father, grandfather(Gpa/Pata) and friend.

He was truly loved by so many people.

He was also a very spiritual man who lived by faith in God while being a bad ass too.

Greg loved his kids and grandkids so much. They brought out the best in him.

Greg was a devoted family man. He embodied commitment and generosity, always showing up and delivering on his promises. Greg was deeply curious, with a vast knowledge spanning mythology, religious texts, and countless interests he pursued with dedication.

He was a natural storyteller with a saying for everything, known for his wit and humor that lifted everyone around him. An artist at heart, he brought characters to life in drawings and tales alike. Greg's strength and resilience were remarkable; he endured hardships without complaint, embodying the "survivor model" he called himself.

Disciplined and fit, Greg worked tirelessly for his family, supporting them through long hours and hard work. His values were unwavering, and his bravery was undeniable, facing every challenge head-on, including his time in the Marines. Greg lives on in the lessons, stories, and love he shared with family and friends. He leaves a legacy of strength, intellect, humor, and kindness that will be forever cherished.
