“ Joyce is my grandmother. She was one of my best friends. The strongest woman I have ever met.

She loved life, her family, friends and so much more. She was the light to the darkness in our family. I truly believe she will always be the light, however now she will be the light in spiritual form.

I miss her so much everyday.

I will always remember “Glass Half Full” every second of everyday.

Forever missed, never forgotten.

I love you Grandma!
