“ I knew Rick through the On Track Program of Mt. Diablo Adult Ed, which he joined roughly nine years ago a year after his motorcycle accident. Rick was determined to heal from the results of the TBI that resulted from the accident, and he embraced all the help and support that the program could offer. In the beginning he was had severe aphasia; the thoughts and words were in his head, but getting them out coherently was a struggle. He never gave up until he could write clearly again and read out loud as well as most people who had never had a brain injury. He served on the O.T. Student Council as the class Treasurer, and he could always lighten the mood in class with his good humor, jokes and ready smile. He was one of my most special students, and I miss him.
